IMPRESSED

Favorably Was Delegate Meehan On His Visit to Atlantic City.

Declares the Hon. Edward J. McDermott Made Hit of the Meeting.

Many Important Resolutions Adopted by the National Federation.

LEADING CATHOLICS IN ATTENDANCE

William T. Meehan, State Secretary of the Ancient Order of Hibernians and a delegate to the American Federation of Catholic Societies, has returned from Atlantic City greatly impressed with all he saw and heard at the big convention. To a representative of the Kentucky Irish American Mr. Meehan said:

"It would be hard to tell you exactly all that took place. In fact, your paper covered the main features of the convention last week. Yet there were many things that impressed me favorably. In the first place, the lecture of Father Farlow, the Jesuit orator, was a great treat. He spoke on 'Christian Education.' The lecture was delivered in St. Nicholas' church and Father Farlow occupied nearly an hour in its delivery. And yet Father Farlow failed to hold the attention of his audience as our own Hon. Edward J. McDermott did on the following night. Mr. McDermott spoke more than two hours and not one of the large crowd left the church until the speaker had finished. His subject was 'Leo XIII. and the Papacy.' On Tuesday evening the Right Rev. Bishop McFall read a paper which had been written by the Hon. Walter George Smith, of New Jersey, who was too ill to read it himself. The same evening National President Meehan delivered an interesting lecture on 'Federation.' He also read the very interesting letter from President Roosevelt expressing his regret at his inability to be present at any of the sessions. All of these things were interesting, but the address that impressed me most was that of Mr. Farran, of the Philippines, who pleaded earnestly the cause of his people. He said he represented 5,000,000 of Catholics and this enormous number of people had only ninety-five priests to minister to them. He urged the Federation members individually and collectively to work for the restoration of property to the friars. It was property that rightfully belonged to them. The friars worked for this property and earned it honestly and were under no obligations to Spain nor any one else.

"The convention during its sessions adopted resolutions of respect on the death of Pope Leo XIII. and expressing gratitude to the United States Government, the press and to non-Catholics for expressions of sympathy for Catholics. The Federation also adopted resolutions protesting against the infringement of the rights of the Catholic church by any Government, and praying God to restore the temporal power of the Pope. This latter resolution was introduced by the Right Rev. Bishop Kiely, of Savannah, Ga., who made a stirring address in support of the resolution. He was frequently interrupted by applause.

"Another resolution that was adopted with hearty enthusiasm was one condemning socialism and invidious trades unions. The per capita tax was fixed at two cents. Before I forget it, let me tell you that the congratulatory telegrams from Trinity Council, Young Men's Institute, and Division 2, Ancient Order of Hibernians, were loudly applauded. Through the active interest of representative J. L. Darrouzet, of Texas, the delegates contributed $133 to pay the traveling expenses of Minutai Haniska, an Indian Chief from the Rosebud Agency. Mr. Darrouzet was the life of the convention. The Federation will meet in Detroit next year instead of St. Louis, as was erroneously stated. Dr. Joseph W. Fowler was reappointed on the Executive Committee."

Mr. Meehan was appointed to represent Kentucky on the Committees on Credentials, Press and Nominations. Dr. Joseph W. Fowler was appointed on the Committees on Resolutions and Emblems. By the way the Emblem Committee, Mr. Meehan says, adopted a very handsome design for the Federation button. It is a wheel within a wheel; in the center of the interior wheel is an American flag shield with a cross in the center of the flag. The exterior wheel represents the National Federation; the interior wheel represents the State and County Federations; the flag our country, and the cross our faith. Mr. Meehan said that a resolution, which made a favorable impression, was one protesting against divorce and pledging the members to labor against it. He says the Federation movement is spreading rapidly. At this convention 5,000,000 Catholics in the Philippines, 10,000,000 in the United States and 1,000,000 in Porto Rico were represented. The Philippine representatives declared that the Federation meeting held in Chicago in 1902 accomplished a great deal for the islands and they hope the work done this year will have beneficial result.

En route home Mr. Meehan spent a day in Washington, D. C. He met many Irish-Americans and members of the Ancient Order of Hibernians in the national capital. He was delighted with the cordial reception given him. He also called on P. J. Heltigan, editor of the National Hibernian, who received him well and showed him many courtesies.

NEW MEMBERS

Had a Warm Time While Receiving the Several Degrees.

The news that Division 4, Ancient Order of Hibernians, was to have an initiation Wednesday night was sufficient to draw a large attendance. Of course John Hennessy presided with his usual grace and dignity. James Kenealey, James Hogan and Thomas Sweeney, who had been ill, were reported to have recovered, while Ben Zorn is on the road to recovery.

The following young men were initiated, receiving the full four degrees: Michael J. Hartnett, William Houlihan, Joseph M. Harding, John M. Brennan, Dr. John T. Chaw, Louis Dugan, Dave Welsh, Thomas Broderick and John M. McGure. Thomas Keenan, Jr., of Division 1, was given the third and fourth degrees with the class from Division 4. The newly initiated members received a walloping they will not soon forget. Now they are all anxious to see new members so they can do a little initiating themselves.

County President Patrick T. Sullivan made an interesting address to the new members. The Irish field day was discussed at length and reports showed that Division 4 had completed arrangements for the care of the inner man on the occasion of the field day. President Hennessy appointed the following cashiers and dispensers for that occasion: John Mellon, John Dwan, Pat Keane, Joseph P. McGinn, Nick Smith, Thomas Dignan, Will Schnell, Lawrence Meany, Joseph Hanrahan, John J. Barry, John M. Brennan, Tom Broderick, Thomas Callahan and Thomas Dolan.

After the meeting adjourned Dr. John Chaw and John Brennan were seen wending their way to the nearest drug store for the purpose of purchasing some liniment. Tom Broderick says the famous "Rocky Road to Dublin" must be tame, if comparison with their trip through the second degree.

The County Board met previous to the meeting of Division 4, and heard further reports from committees from the various divisions on the field day and outing. All reports were of an encouraging nature.

FAINTED AWAY

Pope Pius X. Suffered From Too Much Work and Too Little Rest.

Pope Pius X. gives every evidence that he will be a great Pontiff and one of the most illustrious of the successors of St. Peter. He is a man of the people, all the people, not any part or class. Since his coronation, which in itself was a long and trying ordeal, he has been a busy man, so busy, in fact, that he lost rest necessary to a man of his years. On Tuesday, after celebrating mass and administering holy communion to more than 200 persons, he fainted away and remained unconscious for some little time. Fortunately he revived, but his physicians command absolute rest.

Pope Pius objected, saying: "Why should I not do the things that Pope Leo did? I am no older than he was when he was made Pope."

The physicians advised him, however, that Pope Leo took an absolute rest of two weeks after his coronation. Acting on their advice Pope Pius has decided to suspend all audiences until he has completely recovered.

Before he was taken ill Pope Pius granted two audiences to his Eminence Cardinal Gibbons. To him the Pope expressed great confidence in the Catholics of America and sent them his blessing. Cardinal Gibbons will rest a few weeks among the mountains of Italy before returning to America.

EARNED A REST.

The Rev. Father Bernard I. Doherty, one of the most popular of the younger priests in this diocese, left for Providence, R. I., during the present week to spend a month's vacation with his parents. Father Doherty has been located at Payneville, Meade county, in charge of St. Mary Magdalen's church, and in charge of Big Bend, Cedar Flat, Milan and Wolf Creek missions in Meade county, and of Frynrite and Union Star missions in Breckinridge county. Father Doherty's flock is widely scattered, nevertheless its members have learned to love him. He has also many friends and admirers in Louisville, all of whom wish him a pleasant visit to the places where his boyhood days were spent.

MONTHLY MEETING.

The Particular Council of the St. Vincent de Paul Society held its monthly meeting in St. Francis' Hall last Monday night. President James T. Campbell was in the chair. Secretary John A. Doyle read the various reports and the Rev. Father P. M. J. Rock, Spiritual Director, gave the members some good advice. There was little business to be transacted as at this time of the year there is comparatively little work for the St. Vincent de Paul society.

IRISH FIELD DAY

To Be Held One Week from Tomorrow Promises to Be the Greatest Event of the Season in Hibernian Circles.

Many Athletes Have Entered Their Names with Chairman Dolan in Contests Requiring Display of Skill and Strength.

Big Base Ball Game Will Be a Great Feature and Will Draw Enthusiastic Crowds from Cities and Towns, Far and Near.

A fair day is the only thing now necessary to the success of the Irish field day which will be held at Fern Grove one week from tomorrow. All else is arranged. The Hibernians are all workers, but never before have they worked as hard as they have during the past few months to make this field day a success. The coming event will be the second annual Irish field day given under the auspices of the Ancient Order of Hibernians. They believe that in friendly athletic contests a love for old Irish games will be renewed; that thus natives of Ireland and children of Irish parents will become better Irishmen, and good Irishmen are always good citizens of any country. The State Board, the County Board, the officers and members of every one of the four local divisions, have worked in unison to make the coming event a credit to their race. Everything is in apple pie order and if the day was tomorrow there would be no hitch. More than this, Hibernians are coming to this event not only from Kentucky and Indiana, but more than 500 are coming from St. Louis, 400 miles away. With the St. Louis contingent will come a strong baseball team, made up of members of the various councils of the Knights of Columbus in the Mound City. The Louisville Hibernians picked a team from among its members and challenged the St. Louisans. The challenge was accepted and a great game is looked for.

The County Board held an enthusiastic meeting on Friday night of last week. County President Patrick Sullivan was in the chair and every division was represented. It was decided to hold more frequent meetings from now until after the field day and all absences will be fined. Great harmony prevailed throughout the meeting, notwithstanding the fact that rival athletes are members of various divisions.

Thomas Dolan, Chairman of the committee on games, reported that his committee had its work well in hand and that interest in the games was increasing. He remarked that the West End athletes had made up their minds to defeat Limerick and the East End. Chairman Dolan announced that his committee had arranged the following events:

One hundred yards dash.
Two hundred yards dash.
Hop, step and jump.
Running high jump.
Running broad jump.
Putting sixteen pound shot.
Throwing twelve pound hammer.
Potato race.
Boys' race, under fourteen years.
Girls' race, under fourteen years.
Three-legged race.
Ball game, St. Louis vs. Louisville.

Entries for each of these events will close at noon Sunday, August 23, the field day. Each contestant must pay an entrance fee of twenty-five cents. Those who are desirous of entering the contests at once should apply either in person or by letter to Thomas Dolan, Chairman of the games committee, 2127 Portland avenue.

Con J. Ford, President of Division 2, who had charge of the printing and advertising, reported that his committee had completed its work and that the field day was well advertised. As a matter of fact Mr. Ford and his committee got out one of the handsomest and most profitable banners ever seen in the city.

George J. Butler, State Treasurer, reported for Division 3, which is in charge of the finances, music and prizes. He said his committee had made satisfactory progress in all the business allotted to it.

SILVER JUBILEE

Of Dedication of St. Vincent de Paul's Church to Be Held Tomorrow.

Rapid Growth of a Parish That Began in Humble Circumstances.

The Pastor and People Deserve Credit For Their Zeal and Energy.

AN ELABORATE MUSICAL PROGRAMME

The people of the congregation of St. Vincent de Paul will celebrate the silver jubilee of the establishment of the parish tomorrow. The church will be tastefully decorated in honor of the occasion and in every possible manner the people will give evidence of their joy over the accomplishment of twenty-five years in which God has blessed the church and the people.

The main celebration will occur at 10 o'clock when the Very Rev. Father Louis C. Oble will celebrate solemn high mass.

The Right Rev. Bishop McCloskey will occupy a position of honor in the sanctuary and nearly all the priests in the city, at least all who can conveniently do so, will be present. The sermon will be preached by the Very Rev. Father Paul Alf, pastor of St. Boniface's congregation. Inasmuch as this is a German speaking congregation, the sermon will be delivered in the German language.

The choir of St. Vincent de Paul's church will be augmented by many of the best singers from other Catholic churches and by a full orchestra directed by Prof. Ed Morbach. Mozart's Twelfth Mass will be rendered. Without doubt the church will be crowded to its utmost capacity.

Twenty-five years ago a thrifty community of between sixty and seventy German-American families living in the southeastern part of the city built a little church at Shelby and Oak streets. They were law abiding, industrious, religious people. They were given a priest as pastor who was as zealous in the cause of religion as his people were industrious and God-fearing. Within a short time the congregation grew from its humble fact that rival athletes are members of various divisions.

Thomas Dolan, Chairman of the committee on games, reported that his committee had its work well in hand and that interest in the games was increasing. He remarked that the West End athletes had made up their minds to defeat Limerick and the East End. Chairman Dolan announced that his committee had arranged the following events:

One hundred yards dash.
Two hundred yards dash.
Hop, step and jump.
Running high jump.
Running broad jump.
Putting sixteen pound shot.
Throwing twelve pound hammer.
Potato race.
Boys' race, under fourteen years.
Girls' race, under fourteen years.
Three-legged race.
Ball game, St. Louis vs. Louisville.

Entries for each of these events will close at noon Sunday, August 23, the field day. Each contestant must pay an entrance fee of twenty-five cents. Those who are desirous of entering the contests at once should apply either in person or by letter to Thomas Dolan, Chairman of the games committee, 2127 Portland avenue.

Con J. Ford, President of Division 2, who had charge of the printing and advertising, reported that his committee had completed its work and that the field day was well advertised. As a matter of fact Mr. Ford and his committee got out one of the handsomest and most profitable banners ever seen in the city.

George J. Butler, State Treasurer, reported for Division 3, which is in charge of the finances, music and prizes. He said his committee had made satisfactory progress in all the business allotted to it.

proportions to several hundred families and a new and larger church had to be erected. That church now stands at Shelby and Oak streets, a monument to the zeal and energy of these good German Catholics, many of whom have passed to their eternal reward.

The church is a handsome brick edifice with stone facings. Its interior is fifty-two feet wide and 150 feet long. The members of the parish are continually adding to its interior decoration so that at present it is one of the handsomest churches in the city. In less than a quarter of a century its membership has increased ten-fold, or from seventy families to between 700 and 800 families. From a small parochial school of fifty pupils has grown the present school of 700 boys and girls, who are under the tutelage of the Ursuline Sisters. Everything that these people have attempted has been blessed. Certainly their jubilee celebration tomorrow will redound to their credit and to the credit of their present beloved pastor, the Very Rev. Father Louis C. Oble.

JOINT COMMITTEE

Makes Preliminary Provision For Entertainment of the Grand Council.

Committees from the three local councils of the Young Men's Institute held a preliminary meeting at Satoli Hall on Wednesday night and began preparations for the entertainment of the delegates to the Grand Council, which meets here September 20, 21 and 22. Satoli Council was represented by George Perry, Philip J. Stuetzel and John Ryan.

Mackin Council was represented by President Frank Murphy, Wm. Shaughnessy and Clarence H. Zook, who was elected Chairman of the committee.

Trinity Council was represented by James B. Kelly; William Hillerich and Al Steiger. George J. Lutz, Grand Secretary of the Kentucky jurisdiction, acted as Secretary of the meeting and will continue to act as Secretary at the other meetings of this joint committee.

After outlining a general plan of procedure several sub-committees were appointed to arrange various entertaining features. The joint committee will meet again at 8 o'clock Wednesday evening.

ENJOYED HIS TRIP.

The Rev. Father Michael S. Ryan, C. M., returned to his home in St. Louis on Tuesday. While in Louisville he visited a number of relatives, among them Charles Raily. Last week Father Ryan and Mr. Raily spent several days visiting Mammoth Cave, Loretto and Nazareth.

Joseph P. McGinn, representing Division 4, reported that his committee had made all arrangements for refreshments. Families who choose to do so can take baskets of provisions. Those who do not care to bother with baskets will be served meals on the grounds at reasonable prices. Mr. McGinn further stated that he wished to urge all his friends to back the team of Division 4 in the tug-of-war which is to take place between Divisions 3 and 4. The prize committee, of which George J. Butler is Chairman, is looking after a cup or trophy to be given as a prize for the winners of the baseball game. The meeting adjourned until Monday night, August 17.

The Hibernians of St. Louis are likewise interested in the forthcoming field day. So are the Knights of Columbus of St. Louis. You know you have to show these Missouri people something and they must have been shown, because Frank G. Cunningham, Traveling Passenger Agent of the Louisville, Henderson & St. Louis Railway Company, with headquarters in St. Louis, knows a good thing when he sees it. Why should he not? "He was bred in old Kentucky."

When Frank heard about the forthcoming field day he at once set to work in St. Louis to enlist the sympathy of members of the Ancient Order of Hibernians and Knights of Columbus. Such encouragement did he receive that the great corporation which he represents decided to bring an excursion from St. Louis to Louisville via the Louisville, Henderson & St. Louis railway one day before the Irish field day. That is, the excursion will leave St. Louis on the evening of Saturday, August 22, and will reach this city of 7:15 o'clock Sunday morning, August 23. It is expected many will take advantage of the low rates offered.

INITIATION

Of Members of the Ladies' Auxiliary Proved Grand Success.

Encouraging Reports Made by Ladies, Who Promise to Increase Roll.

Charter Will Be Held Open For the Next Thirty Days.

THANKS FOR THE STATE BOARD

The formal initiation of the members of the Ladies' Auxiliary to the Ancient Order of Hibernians was conducted at Hibernian Hall last Sunday night. Miss Mary Cavanaugh, the newly elected President, presided with grace and dignity. During the initiation a choir composed of Mrs. William T. Meehan, Miss Ella O'Connell, Miss Mamie Keenan and Miss Julia Kelly rendered appropriate vocal music.

Eight new applications were received. Miss Mary Sheridan made a becoming address, complimentary to the ladies of the auxiliary in general and to individuals in particular. She promised to bring in the names of ten or twelve new members.

Mrs. Thomas P. Clines was called upon and expressed herself as delighted with the meeting. She urged all to keep up the tone of the society and to be careful in the selection of new members, so that the auxiliary might be composed of the best Irish ladies in the city. It was determined to hold the charter open for the next thirty days in order that prospective new members might have the advantage of the low rate of entering, which has been fixed at one dollar initiation fee and dues twenty-five cents a month. This will soon create an ample fund to allow the Ladies' Auxiliary to do a great deal of good.

The Irish field day was discussed by the ladies with fervor and all promised to do their part in making the affair a success. The ladies by a rising vote thanked the State Board for its action in organizing the auxiliary. After all joined in singing "Come Back to Erin" the meeting adjourned to meet next Wednesday night.

The Ladies' Auxiliary is now fairly embarked on the sea of prosperity. Let its members continue to work for its success.

The following ladies received the first and second degrees during the evening: Misses Mary Cavanaugh, Lily Callahan, Ella O'Connell, Katie Davern, Addie Cavanaugh, M. Norton, Mary E. Sheridan, Julia Crowley, Margaret Foley, Margaret Callahan, Mary Noonan, Florence Clancy, Rose Sweeney, Julia C. Kelly, Julia Kelly, Mary Keenan, Mary Foley, Catherine Ansbro, Maggie Coughlin, Mary Lynch, Winifred Fleck, Mary Moran, Josephine Welsh, Mesdames William T. Meehan, William M. Higgins, Thomas P. Clines, M. A. Ansbro, L. J. Mackey, M. C. Shay and Bernard Bush.

At the next meeting the following ladies will be initiated: Mesdames Attie Roskopf, Thomas Keenan, Hannah Dignan, Dora McGinty, Joseph Cooney, Thomas Moran, Mary Sheehan, M. J. Carroll, James Coleman, Thomas Quinn, Joseph Harr, James Concannon, Martin J. Cusick, Mike Tynan, and Misses Mary Higgins, Katie Dolan, Mary Burke, Lillie Keirrin, Elizabeth Kane, Ella Broderick, Annie Carroll, Annie Butler, Ella McMahon, Mayme J. Sullivan, Annie Nevils, Anna Bohan, Annie Gleeson, Bridget Carr, Mayme Geoghegan, Hattie Higgins, C. Hennessy, Mary Dwan, Catherine Connors, Annie Rihn, Annie Zorn, Mary Kelly, Lizzie Callahan and Mary Butler.

The gentlemen present at the initiation and who rendered valuable assistance were John H. Hennessy, President of Division 4; Joseph P. McGinn, whose little talk put all in a good humor; David O'Connell, Tom Lynch, Tom Callahan and Pat Begley.

JOLLY CROWD

Visited Mammoth Cave and Investigated All its Wonders.

Mr. and Mrs. Augustus Winterhalter chaperoned a jolly party of young people to Mammoth Cave this week. In the party were Misses Nellie and Katherine Glenn, Annie McFarland, Josie and Margaret Godfrey, Sarah Maloney, Messrs. Lee Young, Charles Hallach and Chester Conrad. The event was in every way an enjoyable one, though it took some time for the ladies in the party to face the men after they had donned the uniforms which it is necessary to use in the cave. The men wear overalls, while the ladies wear bloomers abbreviated at the knee. The girls with substantial underpinning were as much opposed to displaying their advantages as the ladies less favored. However, they had gone to see Mammoth Cave and finally mustered up courage enough to confront their male escorts. After a little idle chaffing the whole party entered the great cave and uniforms were forgotten. They had a queer old time ascending the corkscrew and had many troubles on the "Rocky mountain."

One young lady fainted while the party was on Echo river and another announced her disappointment because she had expected to see the cave by daylight. Of course she laughed when her friends explained that it would be impossible for her to see the interior of a cave in the broad glare of daylight, but she held to it, nevertheless, that she was disappointed. At the end of the trip everybody in the party kissed the blarney stone. Since the return of the pilgrims many young men are anxious to kiss the girls who kissed the blarney stone.

NICE TALKS

Made by Members at the Last Meeting of Division I. A. O. H.

Division I, Ancient Order of Hibernians, held a well attended meeting last Tuesday night. President Mike Tynan was in the chair and all the officers were present. All were glad to see the smiling face of Tom Tarpey, who had not attended a meeting for several weeks. He was given a hearty greeting and made a pleasant address in response. Quite a surprise was caused when it developed that no applications were presented, no candidates were to be balloted for, no member was reported as sick, nor were there any bills. President Tynan dispatched the business of the meeting with a rush. He also reported the arrangements for the Irish field day, showing that Division I had done its part. Tickets can be purchased from members or at John Mulloy's tea and coffee store at 214 West Market street.

Thomas Dolan, Chairman of the games committee, reported that he was receiving entries every day from athletes who wanted to take part in the contests. State President Keenan made a full report on the Ladies' Auxiliary which was recently organized, and said he believed it would grow and flourish. He also urged all the members to attend the field day and take their friends along.

Edward Cradick, Sr., made a splendid talk in favor of the ball game. He can hardly wait for the field day to arrive, so anxious is he to root for his favorite players. The meeting adjourned to meet August 25.

SMOKER FOR TRINITY.

Trinity Council, Young Men's Institute, will give a smoker for the entertainment of its members next Monday night. The committee in charge promises the members a delightful evening.

MAGNIFICENCE

Marked Every Phase of the Ceremony Attending the Coronation.

Pope Pius X. Stilled the Tumult With Only Uplifted Hand.

Thousands of People Witnessed the Solemn Ceremonies in St. Peter's.

AMERICANS WHO WERE IN EVIDENCE

Pope Pius X. was crowned with the triple tiara in the Basilica of St. Peter in Rome last Sunday morning. The coronation took place in the presence of 70,000 people, which is considered to be the greatest crowd ever assembled in the largest and greatest church in the world. Every civilized nation in the world was represented in this vast assemblage. Of course, while the Italians were in the majority, every European nation had its quota, and the United States of America, between the members of the American College and the transient visitors, were well represented. Among the more distinguished Americans who witnessed the coronation of Pope Pius X. were Cardinal Gibbons, Monsignor Kennedy, rector of the American College; Archbishop Hart, of Manila; Monsignor O'Connell, rector of the Catholic University at Washington; Very Rev. Charles P. Granahan, of the same institution; Rev. Fathers Wall and Burke, of New York; Rev. Father E. W. Fowler, of Sioux City, and the Rev. Father Thomas B. Donovan, of Montgomery, Ala. Monsignor Kennedy, of the American College, brought all the professors and students of that institution with him.

Ten of poet or brush of painter will never be able to correctly picture the scenes enacted that day in Rome. It matters not whether they were enacted in the great Basilica, or on the great piazza outside before the doors were opened, or on the streets leading to the great Roman Cathedral hours before day dawned. All roads led to St. Peter's. Prince and pauper, the high and the low, the merchant and mechanic, the employer and employee, forgot for the time being their worldly pursuits. Heaven was their country, and the new Pope, Pius X., the visible head of Christ's church, was to receive the triple crown. Although he had been Pope since his election on the Tuesday previous, this was to be verily the crowning act in his election.

The doors were opened shortly after 6 o'clock. Men and women poured in in what might be called a human torrent. Women fainted in the crush. Strong men were borne off their feet and carried along in the big rush. Strange as it may seem, no serious accident was reported. Those who had received invitations were given reserved seats and permitted to enter by way of the sacristy. Among the Roman aristocracy there were representatives of those factions remaining faithful to the Papacy and those faithful to the Italian Government. Among the interested spectators, who were given a position of honor, was Sir Thomas Grattan Ramonde, who has been sent to Rome as the special representative of the Irish Parliamentary party.

It was hours, though it seemed centuries, to the waiting crowd before the procession of Cardinals and the new Pope appeared. When he did appear the great throng broke into glad acclaim: "Pius, our Pope, our Father," and "Long live Pius X." These exclamations had been forbidden by the new Pontiff, but the people were unable to restrain their emotion. Pope Pius X. arose in his chair and blessed the multitude and then made a sign for silence. The master of ceremonies lighted three handfuls of hemp from a torch and as the flame flashed and died out announced: "Holy Father, thus passeth away the glory of the world."

Pope Pius officiated at mass in the chapel of St. Gregory and after that was borne in his chair to the great throne that had been erected for the occasion. There he was clothed with all the insignia of his office and finally with the tiara or triple crown. God bless Pius X. May he long be the last Pope.

VISITED RELATIVES.

The Rev. Father John T. Burns, of Huntsville, Ala., who has been visiting his brother, William Burns, and sister, Miss Gussie Burns, 807 Twenty-third street, will leave for his home either today or Monday. Father Burns is one of the most popular priests in the South.

MACKIN COUNCIL.

The attendance at Mackin Council's meeting last Tuesday was very large. No business of great importance was transacted. One application for membership was received and the Visiting Committee reported that Wesley Adams, who had been on sick the list was improving. The Lecture Committee made a partial report, which indicated that Mackin Council would have a new and instructive feature of entertainments during the fall and winter months. The Anniversary Committee also made a favorable report. The reports of both committees were adopted.

EDUCATE THE YOUNG.

Every Irish-American who has any love for the land of his forefathers ought to inculcate that love into his sons and daughters. More than that, they ought to see that this love for the old land is inculcated into their children's children. Thus, and thus only, will the respect for Ireland be preserved among the rising generations in America. There are various Irish and Irish-American organizations in this city. The aims and objects of each are laudable, but unless they extend their efforts to the education of their children along Irish lines these societies are bound to die. Without new blood no society will live. New men and new ideas are as essential to the growth of a society as money is to a life insurance society. The time will shortly come when emigration from Ireland will either stop altogether or else be appreciably curtailed. Where, then, will be our Irish-Americans, except as memories of the things that have been?

Teach your boys and girls to read Irish history. Teach them to read Irish prose and poetry and to sing the songs of Erin. Is there not more music, more sentiment, more beauty in "The Harp That Once Through Tara's Hall" than in the present day senseless "My Creole Sue, I do love you—oo—oo."

When you tell a child not to do a certain thing the child may not understand why. Give it something else in the place of the thing you have forbidden. If you forbid your boys to read dime novels, give them healthy Irish stories to read, and there are many of them. If you forbid the girls to play rag-time, give them good old Irish music in its stead. Don't think you have done your duty to your country by calling the boys Patrick Sarsfield and Robert Emmet, and the girls Mary Ellen and Winifred.

FEDERATION.

The Catholic Federation movement has undoubtedly received a great impetus as a consequence of the recent national convention held in Atlantic City. Those who attended the second meeting noted the good that had been brought about when the third annual convention was held, and those who attended the first meeting have recognized the great strides that have been made by the organization since its establishment. The recent convention showed a compact organization of Catholic societies in forty States of the Union. Of these four were organized in 1902, and five during the present year. In addition it had representatives from 266 County Federations and was endorsed by two Apostolic Delegates and fifty-five Archbishops and Bishops of the American hierarchy.

A few conservative people are afraid that federation will result in a political movement. Don't be afraid. Catholics ask for their rights and do not intend to infringe on the rights of others. Unfortunately the American Federation was not given the due courtesy by the press of the country this year, but that may be due to local conditions.

This great body of Catholic gentlemen, representing the United States, the Philippines and Porto Rico accomplished what it had undertaken to do. It passed resolutions protesting against the spoliation of the friars in the Philippines, protested against the law of divorce, arranged for the better care of the Indians and thanked the non-Catholic Americans for expressions of sympathy on the death of Pope Leo XIII.

The convention just closed sowed the seed. The harvest will be reaped ere another year rolls around.

WAITING ON THE KING.

On Thursday it was announced by cablegram that the Irish land bill had passed the House of Lords. It is announced that the bill was passed in the form finally approved by the House of Commons. The latter house of Parliament accepted all the amendments offered by the House of Lords save two unimportant ones. It now only remains for King Edward to affix his signature and then the bill will become a law.

The Irish land bill is not all the Irish people want, yet it is more than many expected and will be accepted as the best possible solution of the land question, at least temporarily. There are many defects in the bill, but as half a loaf is better than no bread the leaders of the Irish party have accepted it, with the distinct understanding that they have not yielded the right to secure something better when the occasion offers.

Now let us aid our brethren in Ireland morally and materially to enjoy the benefits they ought to receive from the enactment of this law, and let us hope and pray that the curse of Ireland, landlordism, is gone forever.

ANENT THE TYPOS.

The man who reads is bound to study. He can not get away from studying. The man who paints pictures may be a copyist, a human machine. The sculptor, likewise, may become an automaton, modeling after others. The machinists, the carpenters, the bricklayers and members of other mechanical crafts are likely to become as a class mere machines in their handiwork. History has taught us this. The majority follow in beaten tracks. You can number the celebrated painters, sculptors, machinists, carpenters, bricklayers and other mechanical craftsmen, save and except the printers.

Propos of the forty-ninth annual session of the International Typographical Union, which held its sessions in Washington during the present week, the thought should occur to all intelligent people that every one of its 515 delegates are thinking men. By virtue of their trade, men who handle the "stick" are bound to be thinking men. When Gen. Phil Sheridan visited Germany after the civil war in this country and witnessed the maneuvers he was asked by a German field marshal if he could find anything superior to the German soldiers, who executed their movements with the regularity and precision of a machine.

"Yes," said Gen. Sheridan, "your soldiers are machines. The American soldiers are machines with thinking attachments."

What Sheridan said of the American soldiers can be applied to the printers when compared with other craftsmen. They are mechanics, but they have a thinking attachment that puts them in the front rank as mechanics. The printers are bound to be intelligent, otherwise they could not set type. Many of them are more intelligent than the reporters and editors from whose copy they set type. They are bound to be widely read, inasmuch as they have to read from authors from every quarter of the globe. The mere mechanical process of setting type impresses upon their minds what they read, particularly if the matter is good and elevating. Hence it is that they become good and great and thoughtful men. Countless thousands of men who once held the "stick" are now occupying positions of honor in this country today, who owe their rise to the fact that they were once humble typos.

ularly if the matter is good and elevating. Hence it is that they become good and great and thoughtful men. Countless thousands of men who once held the "stick" are now occupying positions of honor in this country today, who owe their rise to the fact that they were once humble typos.

Take President James Lynch as a sample. Read his annual report to the International Union, in which he expresses disapproval of the action of some of the central labor bodies in boycotting union newspapers because of their editorial policy, the abuse of the right of appeal and the flourishing condition of the printing business, notwithstanding the continued introduction of improved machinery. All of these things are worthy of consideration, because they show that the printers have considered them carefully and not with any bias. The printers of America are today the groundwork and support of intelligent unionism.

Day by day as time passes we see new evidences of the influence over the minds and hearts of men of all creeds and classes. At the recent meeting of the Grand Lodge of Benevolent Protective Order of Elks, Champe S. Andrews, Exalted Ruler of New York Lodge No. 1, offered resolutions of condolence to the Catholics of the world on the death of Pope Leo, and characterizing him as a man who, on account of the brilliancy of his intellect, the purity and charity of his life, and the fraternal spirit animating his every deed, was pre-eminent among men. Surely Pope Leo did not live in vain. Certainly he did not die in vain, when his death taught a non-sectarian body like the Elks to pay tribute to his memory. The Elks are made up of people of all creeds, and their members believe they love God most when they love their fellow-man.

The story published in the Courier-Journal of Thursday to the effect that Dr. Joseph W. Fowler believed that the American Federation of Catholic Societies would adopt a resolution asking the church to remove the ban against Masonry is almost too ridiculous for denial. Such a resolution was presented to the Advisory Committee and there it remained. The matter was not even discussed in the committee room. Only a person of weak intellect could conceive the idea of asking the church to remove the ban against Masonry.

John Philip Sousa, at present the most renowned bandmaster in the world, has returned to the United States after an extensive European trip. To a representative of a New York paper he said: "I was surprised at the wealth of the Irish people, who, while the prices of admission were not popular, came to the concerts in droves." Mr. Sousa is not the only one surprised at hearing of the wealth of the Irish people.

SAVAGE—HOLTMAN.

Patrick H. Savage and Miss Nettie Holtman will be united in the holy bonds of matrimony at St. Michael's church at 3 o'clock next Wednesday afternoon, Rev. Father Sheridan performing the ceremony. Mr. and Mrs. Savage will take a wedding trip to Chicago and other places of interest in the North and East. Mr. Savage is the book-keeper for Joseph McWilliams & Co., and is a popular member of the Ancient Order of Hibernians and Knights of Columbus. The bride-to-be is the charming and accomplished daughter of Henry Holtman, at 722 Washington street.

NEW ARRIVALS.

More sunlight was brought to the happy home of Mr. and Mrs. Gus Weber, on West Main street, by the acquisition of a baby girl, which arrived last Friday. Mother and child are doing well and the father is receiving many congratulations.

A new member of the Young Men's Institute is in the city, but if all probability he will not attend the forthcoming Grand Council. His name is Kelly, a young son of James B. Kelly, the husband of Mrs. Kelly. Mother and son are doing well and the happy father is preparing to enter the new member in Trinity's baby show at New Year's.

BIG EUCHE.

The Emergency Club will give a euchre at their hall, Twenty-fifth and Cecilia streets, on the afternoon and evening of September 2. A large number of prizes have been secured and a good time is assured all who attend.

ST. VINCENT DE PAUL'S CHURCH. Impressive Celebration of Silver Jubilee Takes Place Tomorrow.

[Written for the Kentucky Irish American.]
PIUS X.

Lo! coming forth from somber night
Aurora sheds her cheering light;
God's ancient church looks young and new,
Her tidings are refreshing dew.

Glad tidings! Pius chosen Pope!
Our greetings ring with joy and hope;
Oh, that we could behold at Rome
That hrow thrice crowned in Peter's dome.

All hail! new chief from everywhere;
Thy morn of reign looks bright and fair;
To God our hopeful eyes we raise
For thy long life and happy days.

Oh! holy Virgin, mother dear,
May we hope to see thy festive year
When Pius will renew the scene
Of crowning thee our spotless queen.

REV. WM. GAUSEPOHL.

PIOUS CUSTOM

Of Raising the Hat When Passing a Church Is Commendable.

One of the oldest Roman Catholic customs is that of hating the head and drooping the eyes when passing the door of a Catholic church. It may be noted in almost any part of New York, from the Battery to the Bronx. During the firemen's latest parade two women viewing the procession from the steps of one of the Vanderbilt residences asked: "Why do they all take off their hats when they reach the middle of the block?" "They're in front of the church," answered the pinafores child on the sidewalk, "an' they know the Lord's in there." The same act was noticeable in the police-men's parade. The conductors and motormen on the elevated stations between the Battery and Harlem pass eleven churches on every trip and many of them will have their heads eleven times on that run. There are at least two justices of the Supreme Court who never pass a Catholic church without removing their hats. The mark of reverence for women is the lowering of the head and eyes. This is not conspicuous, but it can be seen thousands of times daily in New York. In the districts given up to foreigners the women hurrying by a church
frequently pause a moment and crossing themselves, murmur some native prayer.

ALL GOOD ONES.

Various out of town councils of the Young Men's Institute are still making arrangements for the coming Grand Council of the Kentucky Jurisdiction.
Major Council, of Winchester, has elected the Rev. Father William B.
Ryan its delegate, and J. W. Board, alternate. Barry Council, of Lexington, has elected John J. Luby and James J.
O'Brien, delegates, and John B. Shannon and Robert C. Reeves, alternates.
Lambert Young Council of Frankfort
will send John P. Hanley as its representative, with Will C. Newman as alternate.

JOCKEY CLUB PARK.

Barney Oldfield and Tom Cooper,
famous chaffeurs, will race in their respective automobiles at the Jockey Club Park this afternoon. Both machines are built for speed and endurance and the race ought to be an exciting one. Each has a record of more than a mile a minute. There will be other auto races between many local chaffeurs. Kurkamp's hand will continue to furnish the music for another week. A splendid display of fireworks will be given tonight.

DEATH OF SISTER CECILIA.

Sister Cecilia died at the Ursuline Convent, at Shelby and Chestnut streets, on Monday afternoon. Death resulted from asthma and heart disease. Sister Cecilia was fifty-nine years old and before she entered the religious life was known as Miss Mary Ann Woellman. For several years she had charge of St. Joseph's Orphan Asylum and was a saintly woman. The funeral services took place Wednesday morning at the Ursuline chapel.

GREAT RELIC.

Dennis Morris, of 2312 Bank street,
has in his possession an English half-penny, dated 1791. Mr. Morris found this old relic in Lancashire, England, in March, 1863. It is almost as large as a silver half dollar. No person in Louisville that has seen this halfpenny has ever seen one like it. Around the edge is engraved or stamped: "Payable to the office of W. Tyslor, R. V. Mody & Co.

SUCCEEDS FATHER REICH.

The Rev. Father Camillus Eichenlaub
will succeed the Rev. Father Leonard Reich as pastor of St. Anthony's church, Jeffersonville. Father Reich has been transferred to Trenton, N. J., where he will be rector of St. Francis' College. He has been pastor of St. Anthony's church for nearly five years.

AGED GENTLEMAN DEAD.

Patrick O'Connor, an aged and respected citizen of the West End, died at his home, 222 Eighteenth street, on Thursday. Mr. O'Connor was at one time a member of the police force, but retired many years ago on account of old age. His funeral takes place from St.
Patrick's church at 9 o'clock this morning.

HIBERNIAN PICNIC.

The Irishmen of Jeffersonville gave a delightful picnic at Forest Park on Wednesday evening. Quite a large crowd was present and all spent an enjoyable evening. It had been postponed from a former date on account of the death of Pope Leo XIII.

FATHER O'CONNOR HOME.

The Rev. Father John O'Connor, pastor of the Church of the Holy Name, has returned from West Baden Springs,
where he took a well deserved vacation.

NARROW ESCAPE.

John Moran, an Illinois Central railroad engineer, fell from a Fourth avenue
car last Sunday night and sustained painful but not serious injuries. His friends will be glad to learn that he is recovering.

BUCKINGHAM.

The Buckingham Theater will throw open its doors on August 23, the first performance being a matinee. At the present, the Whallen brothers are actively engaged in overhauling their theater and putting on the finishing touches. Col. John H. Whallen says the public may expect a far better line of attractions during the coming season than any time heretofore. He and his brother, James P. Whallen, just returned from New York, where they attended a meeting of the directors of the Empire Circuit Company.

SORROW.

Of alternate sunshine and shade,
Light laughter and heavy sighs,
This fleeting life of ours is made,
Like the changing, far-off skies.

The tints of darkness that run
O'er the grand scenery one sees
Enhance the brightness of the sun
Peeping through tall, leafy trees.
Shadows flitting across our days,
As the lowering clouds above,
Make more brilliant the rays
Of the heart's sunlight—love.

Sorrow is life's shading line,
The imprint of God's sweet kiss
On our trembling lips—true sign
Of His best love—heaven's bliss.

SEND IN YOUR BALLOTS NOW

The grand prize contest entered into by readers of the Kentucky Irish American is proving to be a grand success; in fact the management of the paper has been more than surprised. The magnanimous offer has attracted the attention of the entire community and more than a score of candidates, men and women, married and single, are in the field. In some cases the married-men are taking the initiative and are doing the hustling.
On the other hand, some of the married men are bashful, but in these cases their estimable better halves are blazing the way for a trip to the World's Fair. Several popular young men are working energically themselves, while more bashful men are being shoved forward by their friends. But the young ladies, God bless them, they do not appear to be a bit bashful in this contest. Whether it is that they want to get away from Louisville or because the supply of marriageable men in Louisville is not commensurate with the demand, no one knows, but all seem anxious to get to St. Louis if only for a week.

The names of those voted for and the number of ballots cast for each contestant
will be announced in the Kentucky Irish American on the first Saturday in September. This ought to give ample time for contestants to collect their ballots and forward them to the Kentucky Irish American not later than the Wednesday preceding.

Remember that the married couple who secure the most votes get a week's trip to the World's Fair, with railroad transportation and hotel bills paid, while the same offer is extended to the single lady or gentleman who secures the most votes. Thus, in all four prizes are to be given. And while in St. Louis the successful contestants are to stop at the Lindell Hotel, one of the oldest and best known hostleries in the United States.

Now is the time to engage the attention of your friends and to have them save ballots or to subscribe for the paper and thus secure a standing when the first announcement of the votes is made. The offer holds out three great inducements, a visit to the city of St. Louis, a visit to the Louisiana Purchase Exposition or World's Fair, and all while the national convention of Irishmen is in session.

BORNTRAEGER—HERTEL.

It is a pleasure to announce the wedding of Louis W. Borntraeger and Miss Louise Hertel, which will take place at St. Joseph's church at 8 o'clock on the morning of Wednesday, September 2.
The wedding ceremony will be followed by a nuptial high mass. The attendants will be Messrs. William H. and George A.
Borntraeger, brothers of the groom-to-be, and Anthony Bauerle. After the ceremony Mr. and Mrs. Borntraeger will take an eighteen days' trip to Rochester, Buffalo, Niagara Falls, Cleveland, Cincinnati and Dayton. They will be at home at 824 Twenty-fourth street after September 20.

Mr. Borntraeger is well known as a member of Mackin Council, of the St.
Joseph's Orphan Society, the Delmont
Club and of the Letter Carriers' Association. He has been connected with the Louisville postoffice department during the past eight years as letter carrier and has made friends in all parts of the city.
The bride-to-be is the daughter of Mrs.
Elizabeth Hertel, of 1329 Quincy street,
and is an estimable and popular young lady.

PERSONALS.

Daniel McShane will leave next week
to visit friends in Chicago.

Misses Nell and Katie Maloney, of 428
East Ormsby avenue, will leave next Wednesday for Shelbyville, Ky.

Miss Maggie Maloney will leave for Harrodsburg, Ky., next week to spend the remainder of the summer as a guest of Mrs. E. N. Harwood.

Michael T. Callahan, a popular employe of C. E. Overstreet & Co., has returned home after a pleasant visit to his brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs.
John Tierney, in St. Louis. He also spent a few days with relatives in Alton, Ill.

Veal is one of the cheapest meats from May to October.

HAPPY DEATH

Lebanon Youth Expired Soon
After Becoming a Catholic.

Herbert Walston, aged sixteen years,
died at the residence of his brother in Lebanon last Saturday morning. The deceased was baptized and received the last sacraments on Thursday. Although he became a Catholic a few days before death, he had ever been an exemplary youth and was held in high esteem in the community. His funeral took place from St. Augustine's church and was conducted by the Very Rev. Father Joseph A. Hogarty, who spoke feelingly of the circumstance of the young man's death and of the beauty of his soul. A large number of friends followed the remains to their last resting place in St. Augustine's cemtery.

Herbert Walston had been ill of typhoid fever for several weeks and feeling that the end was near, decided to take the step he had long contemplated—that of becoming a Catholic. He made his wishes known to his relatives, who offered no objection to his wishes. After receiving the last sacraments he said he felt happier and realized that he was going to die.

Shortly before the end came he kissed
his father, brother and four sisters good by and told them he would meet them in heaven. A little later he died. All who knew him in life had a good word for him in death.

HINTS ON STYLE.

The fall skirts are round, without a hint of train, and the whole costume has a decided old-world flavor.

Taffeta has, by the way, defied spring prophecy and is high in favor, instead of being out of style; but foulard is unquestionably shelved.

Tight sleeves may be cut up and full undersleeves or the popular lingerie ruffles added. A pereline, cape collar, fichu or deep bertha will freshen an old bodice.

Louisine silks, which earlier in the season threatened to elbow taffeta from the field, are well liked, though hardly so popular for whole costumes as their taffeta rivals.

New tailor costumes in bouespun,
serge, etc., for early fall show a very moderate coat sleeve, helling slightly at the wrist, but since blouses still exhibit full sleeves, one is moved to wonder how
the two will harmonize.

Dotted sheer stuffs are particularly favored, and white point d'espirit or mousseline dotted in black is made into simple and charming frocks, trimmed with miles of black Valenciennes edging, tiny frills, and with a suggestion of color
introduced somewhere.

Brown hides fair to hold the favor it has gained, and a brown tailor frock for autumn is an absolutely safe proposition.
A brown plaid wool skirt worn with a short brown taffeta coat, trimmed with little caps, strappings and dull gold buttons, is a very smart affair.

The pereline, the new sleeves and the fad for combining dissimilar materials are boons to the woman who has to make over her old frocks. It is hard to make a close-fitting skirt into a full one, but all the new skirts are not full from the waist band and the addition of flounces
will give an effect of fullness.

Another note of spring and summer modes which will apparently stay with us at least through the winter season is the popularity of the so-called fuchsia shades. Many of the most attractive fall samples in cloth, zibeline, etc., are in the reddish purples, running the gamut from light to dark; and we shall undoubtedly see much of what we have called the dahlia shades with new variations upon the same coloring.

SIN AND SUFFERING.

The lines of suffering on almost every human countenance have been deepened,
if not traced there, by unfaithfulness to conscience, by departures from duty.
To do wrong is the surest way to bring suffering; no wrong deed ever failed to bring it. Those sins which are followed by no palpable pain are yet terribly avenged, even in this life. They abridge our capacity for happiness, impair our relish for innocent pleasure and increase our sensibility to suffering. They despoil us of the armor of a pure conscience and trust in God, without which we are naked amid hosts of foes and are vulnerable by all the changes of life. Thus to do wrong is to inflict the surest injury on our peace. No enemy can do us equal harm with what we do ourselves
when we violate any moral or religious obligation.

NURSING HIS WRATH.

"You'll be sorry for this some day!"
howled a son and heir as his father released him from the position he had occupied across the parent's knee.
"I'll be sorry? When?"
"When I get to be a man!"
"You will take revenge by whipping
you father when you are big and strong and I am old and feeble, will you, Johnny?"
"No, sir," blubbered Johnny, rubbing himself; "but I'll spank your grandchildren till they can't rest!"

ONLY AN ACQUAINTANCE.

A clergyman, some time since, rather hurried, while reading the funeral service over a corpse, when he came to the words, "This our brother," etc., forgot whether the deceased was man or woman.
Turning therefore to one of the mourners, who happened to be an Irishman, he asked him, "Is this a brother or a sister?"
"Neither one nor the other," replied
Pat, "twas only an acquaintance."

for St. Patrick's church on Wednesday next.New York Hibernians have made great preparations for their Irish field day, which is being held today. Many of the greatest athletes in the United States are entered in the various contests.The eleven divisions of the order in Baltimore gave a big picnic on Thursday of last week. A week previous 1,500 members of the order in Baltimore held a smoker to awaken enthusiasm for the picnic.State Secretary Will T. Meehan is loud in his praise of treatment received in Washington from P. J. Hattigan, editor of the National Hibernian; District Secretary Dolan and Brothers McEvoy and Gallagher.Division 9 of the Hibernian Rifles in Jersey City will hold a summer night's festival on next Wednesday. Various divisions from Bayonne and Elizabeth-port will attend the affair. A street parade will be a feature.Division I of Providence has a new degree team, which will exemplify the full four-degrees on the first Sunday in September. Twenty-five candidates are to be initiated. Members of this same division recently organized a military company.Duluth Hibernians expect to have a new hall before long. Members of Division I met in that city a few days ago and decided to go ahead with the project. It is intended to have a reading room and library in connection with the lodge room.Divisions 10 and 17 of Providence, R.
I., and St. Patrick's branch of the Irish Catholic Benevolent Union are making arrangements for a joint picnic on Labor day. It has been decided to offer a purse of $100 to the winning nine in a base-

Providence, R. I., is making plans for a big Emmet celebration to be held on Sunday, August 23.The national officers have decided that any members of the order coming to the United States from England, Ireland or Scotland, by giving satisfactory evidence of his membership can, through transfer card, become a member of any division
in this country and he entitled to all social and financial benefits.

BASEBALL.

The Frank Goss baseball team and the Butchertown nine will cross bats at Eliphe Park tomorrow afternoon. The game will be called at 3:15 o'clock sharp.
The Goss nine is considered the champion amateur team of Kentucky and the record made this year is admirable. The Butchertown team has administered three defeats to the Reccus club, which was considered the most formidable rival of the Gosses. In all respects both clubs are able to put up a first class article of baseball, and although the Louisville professional players are away the fans will have an opportunity to see an exciting game. The admission fee will be fifteen and twenty-five cents. Ladies will be admitted free.

MOLDERS' PICNIC.

Iron Molders' Union, No. 16, will give its forty-fourth annual picnic at Phoenix Hill Park on Monday next. The committee on arrangements is made up of President John Cavanaugh, Fred Brady,
George Fischer, John Morris, Charles
Hanz, Henry Weigand, Mike Reupp, George Nicolas and John Berckle. This union is one of the oldest, one of the most substantial and one of the most conservative labor bodies in the city and deserves a large crowd. Ludwig's union band will furnish music for dancing.
Admission to the grounds will be only ten cents. Dancing will be twenty-five cents.

LOUIS LACHAT RETURNS.

Louis Lachat is back from Mooreville,
after a week's outing, greatly improved in health. He is treating all callers at the Bluegrass Exchange in a handsome manner.
